'My name is Samantha. I live in Canterbury in the county of Kent, in England, but I was born in London. I work in a restaurant with my best friend, Anne. It's a Greek restaurant, although the owner is from Macedonia! I found this job two years ago.

I don't live with Anne - she's married and has two children. I live with a student from Italy called Sofia. Our flat has 3 rooms - mine is green and Sofia's is blue, but the red one is empty. The rent is £250 per month per room.

Sofia came to Canterbury to learn English. She's 22 years old. I didn't speak any Italian when we met, but three months ago I started to learn because I was living with her.

My parents and my brother live in London, in an area called Croydon. I go to see them once or twice every month. It only takes about an hour and a half by train from Canterbury to London - it's only 60 miles away, and they often visit, too.

My brother works for a international trading company in the City. He gets up early - at about six o'clock - but he finishes at half past three or four. That's when I leave for work. He takes the train and the underground, but I walk for 10 minutes and that's it!

When my brother was going to work this morning I was sleeping, and when he left work, I started in the restaurant. I usually have a coffee and a biscuit before I go, but today I didn't have enough time.

On Monday I'm going on holiday! I'm going to sleep at my parents' house, and then on Tuesday I'm going to fly to Mallorca with some friends - I can't wait!
