TEACHERS' NOTES.

You can use this in different ways. I prefer to put my students in pairs and tell them to try to fill in the gaps, before looking at the questions all together. Some of the grammar aspects included are:

PRESENT PERFECT

USED TO

PREPOSITIONS

CONDITIONALS

FUTURE (WILL/GOING TO)

GET

Depending on the size of the class you might want the students to answer the questions one by one as you go through them, or complete all the questions first, and then get each student to choose the question he/she wants to answer. That way they talk about something that interests them.

Alternatively, you can turn it into a complete pairwork activity, and get each student to give a summary of his partner's answers to the class afterwards.
