

My Garden in Kent

Last year I got fed up with working in London – the traffic jams, the crowded buses and underground, the rush and stress – so I decided to move out into the countryside.

After looking around, I found a little run-down cottage in the county of Kent. It was small and needed a lot of work, but I fell in love with it straight away. The first thing I did was put on my wellies and walk out into the garden. It was like a jungle!

First I cut back the long grass and weeds with a strimmer, and when I found a plant with deep roots I took the spade to dig it up. Imagine my surprise after two days, when I fell into a pond in the middle of the garden!

It's taken me a year, but now I'm the proudest gardener in Kent. From the patio just at the back of the house there's a beautiful green lawn and a path that goes up to the pond and then to the greenhouse at the back of the garden, and the shed where I keep my wheelbarrow, lawnmower and all the rest.

So that's it! All that hard work was not in vain. Now I have to start with the house.....

---

Find the word in the text:

1. small wooden house used to store garden tools =
2. a small lake in a garden =
3. rubber boots used by gardeners =
4. small country house (like in the fairy tales) =
5. machine with two handles for cutting high vegetation =
6. machine that you push along (or sometimes drive) to cut short grass =
7. plants that are not popular with gardeners =
8. the part of the plant that is underground =
9. gardeners use this to carry things. It's got one wheel and two handles =
10. neglected, not cared for =
11. area of cut grass in a garden =
12. way, track, place to walk =
13. small glass house for growing strawberries, tomatoes... =
14. to make a hole in the earth =
15. the tool you use to make a hole in the earth =